2. Diplomas/certificates for the current convocation will not be available for mailing until approximately two weeks after the final convocation ceremony. Please visit the Convocation Web site at yorku.ca/mygrad for the exact date. Diplomas are kept on file for approximately one year after the convocation ceremony. If a year or more has passed since your graduation date, you must request and pay for a new diploma or certificate using the Replacement/Duplicate Diploma Order Form.
3. All diplomas that are sent require a signature by the receiving party. If you are not at home, the UPS courier will leave a card in your mailbox indicating that an attempt was made to deliver the diploma. The diploma will then be sent to a local distribution centre for pick-up by the receiver at a later time. Diplomas that are returned to the University will be filed and held until the next December or July (whichever is sooner) and then will be destroyed. It will be the graduate's responsibility to pay for another mailing for any diplomas that are returned, so please ensure the address information you are submitting is correct.
4. Charges for mailing diplomas are as follows: $35 in Canada, $50 in the United States and $100 International.
